DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 20-72, 80-100 and 104, drawn to an apparatus for evaluating the condition of a patent after a stroke classified in class 600 subclass 538
 - II. Claims 1-19 and 73-79, drawn to a method for determining for evaluating the condition of a patent after a stroke indicator, classified in class 128 subclass 200.24
 - III. Claim 102 and 103, an apparatus for evaluating the condition of a patent after a stroke, classified in class 600 subclass 538.
 - IV. Claim 101, drawn to a method for evaluating the condition of a patent after a stroke, classified in class 128, subclass 200.24.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

2. Inventions I and III are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because an effort sensor, and a respiratory band in particular, are not required by the claims directed to the combination. The subcombination has separate utility because it may be used to determine the vigor of the patient.

3. Inventions II and IV are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the combination recited in claim 101 does not require the step of delivering of a breathable gas to the patient. The subcombination has separate utility such as ventilating a patient, which is not required to simply derive a stroke indicator based on detected sleep apneas.

4. Inventions I and III, and II and IV are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus. The process of determining a stroke indicator or CPAP delivery method may be practiced by an apparatus that utilizes patient interface other than a mask, such as cannulae or an intubation apparatus, and that does not include a computer programmed to deliver gas at a pressure higher than atmospheric pressure to the patient, but instead simply delivers air to a patient without computer control.

5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for Groups I and III is not required for Groups II and IV, the search required for Group I is not required for Group III, and the search required for Group II is not required for Group IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

6. A telephone call was made to Raymond Churchill on January 16, 2002 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
